If an animal is seized pursuant to this section and the South Carolina Society for the Prevention of Cruelty of Animals, or other society incorporated for that purpose is involved with the seizure, the animal may be held pending criminal disposition of the case at a facility maintained or contracted by that agency.

(B) The purpose of this section is to provide a means by which a neglected or mistreated animal can be:

(C) A person who violates the provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, must be fined not less than two hundred nor more than five hundred dollars or imprisoned for not more than thirty days, or both.

(B) Nothing in this section may be construed to prohibit an auction or raffle of a live animal including, but not limited to, a fish, bird, fowl, or reptile. Further, the giving away or the testing of game or fowl for breeding purposes only is lawful and is not prohibited by this section as an incentive to enter into a business agreement if the person giving away or testing game or fowl is engaged in that trade.

(C) A person who violates this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, must be punished for each separate offense by a fine not to exceed three hundred dollars or imprisonment not to exceed thirty days, or both.

- (1) allow his dog to run at large off of property owned, rented, or controlled by him;

Whenever any person is bitten or otherwise attacked by a dog while the person is in a public place or is lawfully in a private place, including the property of the owner of the dog or other person having the dog in his care or keeping, the owner of the dog or other person having the dog in his care or keeping is liable for the damages suffered by the person bitten or otherwise attacked. For the purposes of this section, a person bitten or otherwise attacked is lawfully in a private place, including the property of the owner of the dog or other person having the dog in his care or keeping, when the person bitten or otherwise attacked is on the property in the performance of any duty imposed upon him by the laws of this State, by the ordinances of any political subdivision of this State, by the laws of the United States of America,

Holding: The presence or absence of a duty determines liability in situations that involve a claim under the dog bite statute against a person having the dog in his care or keeping.

Applicable Case Law:

Holding: Even if owner of property on which dog owners lived did not have landlord/tenant relationship with dog owners, he was not liable to minor who was bitten by dog, as he was not the dog's owner or keeper; owner of property merely allowed dog to be kept on property on which he did not live, owner visited property but did not provide any care or support for dog, and dog owners were in almost complete control of animal.

Applicable Case Law:

Nesbitt v. Lewis, 335 S.C. 441 (S.C.App. 1999).

Holding: One who controls the use of property has a duty of care not to harm others by its use; conversely, one who has no control owes no duty.

Applicable Case Law:

Holding: Whether individual would not have fallen and injured herself had owner's dog not jumped on her was question for jury in individual's action against dog owner for injuries sustained when dog allegedly jumped on her and caused her to fall off ramp.

If the owner does not pick up his dog within two weeks of notification to the animal control officer, the dog may be destroyed. Reasonable costs associated with the above extended holding period, including cost of mailing the required notice, must be paid before the dog is returned to its owner, or the owner's designee, in addition to any other established costs, fines, fees, or other charges.
